FUEL INJECTED MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS

When you are in the market to purchase a new car, efficiency and speed are more often than not at the top of your check list, these factors are also critical when seeking a manager to suit your unique requirements.

Just like a sleek performance car, speed and efficiency are crucial in securing the interim manager suitable for your needs. By placing an interim manager into a role you will be able to save valuable time.

For Senior Executive, Michelle Seddon of Babcock & Brown It was not an option to leave the role unfilled for the months we knew it would take to find a suitable replacement,

For them it was about thinking 'outside the box' and 'moving quickly'.

An interim manager from Hamilton Rich provided the ideal solution

Interim management removes the risk and offers a smart and time-effective alternative

Recruiting a manager in an area requiring specific and high level expertise can be an incredible headache as experienced by Adrienne Parkinson, Company Secretary, Mirvac Funds Management.

"Managerial talent of the highest calibre who can hit the ground running. And most importantly could be working in your company and making a significant difference"
